Dear Mr. President:

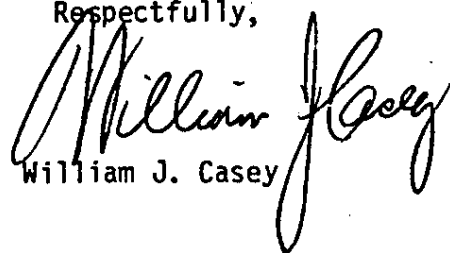

Enclosed is a copy of my Annual Report to the Congress on the Intelligence Community for calendar year 1982. This is the sixth such report prepared for Congress as required by Senate Resolution 400 and House Resolution 658.

This year's report describes some of the major challenges we faced, our success in meeting those challenges, and a discussion of our efforts to restore balance to Intelligence Community capabilities as we continue the process of rebuilding. It also includes reports to me from the Program Managers of the CIA, DIA, NSA, State (INR), [redacted] and FBI on the activities, accomplishments and concerns for the future of their respective agencies.

25X1

I believe this report will provide the Congress with a fuller understanding and appreciation of the broad diversity of Intelligence Community activities and the problems the Community faces. The information contained in this report presents a strong argument for continued Congressional support for the National Foreign Intelligence Program.

Respectfully,

William J. Casey
